

We pray for poor and abandoned People

I live a deep unease: I can't stay calm, I can't sleep and eat, being aware that still nowadays a lot of people live on the street. Many families are homeless, many people can't find a job.

Strong indifference and deep selfishness keep on being widespread, circumstances lead me to answer "the evil with the good".

Against these injustice I abandon myself too on the street, recalling those who lost their lives on the street, being fully and wholeheartedly supportive to those who sleep on the street still nowadays.

I will be supported by prayer and fasting in order to let heart and conscience wake up, making them sensible to those who are in need.

Poor people need us, but we need the too "poor and rich together", those who own something and donate nothing to the poor, to the weaker and the more indigent, cannot look at themselves as women or men of justice, peace and hope. Institutions or single citizens, who holds a chance of giving or making something needs to do it: we need to help those without a shelter, a ceiling, something to survive with.

This call is destined to the whole city, to every region in Italy: we need to help the poor as soon as possible. Italy, listen to the desperate cry by those who lose their job, their home. Those who don't help and donate contribute to impoverishing the society; it is urgent to answer the people's needs.
